

Lucia

Lucia (pronounced: loo-chee-a) is an international dating/relationship expert and TV personality. She is the author of “Lucia's Lessons of Love”, a keynote speaker and syndicated columnist. She hosted “The Art of Love” TV show for 3 years and “The Art of Love” on L.A. Talk Radio in Los Angeles.

She has been on over 100 national and international TV and radio shows as an expert, including “Dr. Phil”, “The CBS Early Show”, “60 Minutes Australia”, “The Tyra Banks Show”, "E! Entertainment", "The KTLA Morning Show", "ABC7 News”, “Fox 5 News” and “Good Day L.A.

Lucia has been interviewed for documentaries which aired on British TV network iTV and Current TV. Her instructional dating videos have aired on NHK – Japan’s Public Television. She has also been interviewed for numerous magazines and newspapers including “Details”, “Business Week”, “Elle” and “Allure” and media from Italy, France, Germany, Canada, Japan, the UK, Australia, Azerbaijan and Chile. Lucia has been on the cover of 4 magazines including Beverly Hills 90210 and Singles Magazine.

Born in Italy and raised in Canada, this modern day Renaissance woman has enjoyed a whole host of careers. As a teenager, she had a stint as a truck-driving soldier. After 2 1/2 years in the Canadian army she moved back to her native Italy to pursue a modeling career.

Her duet with popular Italian artist Pino D’Angio afforded her the opportunity to travel throughout the country and appear on the top Italian TV Shows. Upon moving to Los Angeles, she parlayed her singer-songwriter talents into a song and a video, which aired in both L.A. and on Canada's Much Music. She also hosted the TV show, “Rock World”.

Lucia continued to express her artistic vision through photography and won a Los Angeles Music Award for “Outstanding Photographer”. She has photographed the concerts of everyone from Britney Spears to The Rolling Stones.

With over 25 years experience on the dating scene, Lucia, who speaks four languages, has dated men of all nationalities in seven cities, four countries and two continents. Her practical know-how makes her the perfect candidate to dispense relationship advice— after all, in almost every dating dilemma she has “been there, done that” and lived to tell about it.

Tempered by her light-hearted ability to laugh at the absurdities of life and an upbeat personality, Lucia believes love should “Inspire, empower, uplift and enlighten”.
